When the announcement was made that Mrs. Walker was to be in charge those interested in the party sat back and drew a long breath, knowing that the success of the program was assured, because Mrs. Walker always provides something interesting when she undertakes an entertainment. None of this that we call "old stuff" goes with her.

Hoffman, of the Kansas Flour Mills company, and a man of importance in his city, and she is the grand daughter of Mrs. Katherine Hoffman of Enterprise, whom every club woman in Kansas knows.

Miss Hoffman is a graduate of the Russian School of Ballet Dancing, and for the past two years she has spent a good deal of her time dancing for charity affairs and other public entertainments. Last year she was the main attraction at the famous Shields garden party, in her water lily dance. Last week she filled an engagement at Convention hall. She will give a solo dance, and will be in a duet dance with her partner, Miss Winifred Goldsborough, in a Polish dance with band accompaniment.

Miss Goldsborough is studying in the Ballet School of Dancing, and is said to be a talented young woman. She will give a solo dance, besides giving her part of the Polish duet dance. Her solo will be the Tizic dance.

of the allied nations, which is called "Keep the Home Fires Burning." This song is taking the country by storm. It was heard for the first time in Kansas City a short time ago, having been introduced by Dorothy Jardon at the Orpheum theater. It has never been sung here. Herman Springer of Kansas City will sing it Saturday night, and the band will play the accompaniment. Mrs. Walker has a Victrola record of the song, which she had to send to New York to get. This song is written in twelve languages, and is being sung by the troops in place of the Tipperary song.
